The ISA RC28 (Research Committee on Social Stratification and Mobility) Conference came to Singapore for the first time and CFPR, together with its co-organizer and sponsors, was delighted to host more than 250 scholars from over 30 countries as well as Singapore policy makers from 26–28th of May 2016. The event was graced by Mr Tharman Shanmugaratnam, Singapore Deputy Prime Minister and Coordinating Minister for Economic and Social Policies, as Guest of Honour. Dr Noeleen Heyzer, Social Scientist and Former Under-Secretary-General of the United Nations and Member, NUS Board of Trustees, was the Keynote Speaker.

Over the 2.5-day conference at the NUS UTown, researchers presented work surrounding the main theme of “Intergenerational Transfer, Human Capital and Social Inequality”. A total of 200 papers were presented in 51 panels.
There were two plenary sessions during the conference, the first of which comprised of presentations by Prof Wolfgang Lutz, Prof Charles Hirschman and Prof Xie Yu, centering on issues of "Human Capital and Intergenerational Mobility". The session was chaired by Prof Robert Hauser. The speakers for the second plenary session were Prof Robert Hauser and Prof Meir Yaish, chaired by Prof Donald Treiman. The session highlighted "New Data Opportunities in Stratification Research".

Different panels focused on aspects of education and training, children and youth, cognitive and non-cognitive skills, health and mortality, gender, labour force, migration, race and ethnicity, social safety nets, data and methodology issues and more.

Participants also went for various social activities on the second day with tours at Chinatown, Singapore Botanic Gardens and the Asian Civilisations Museum. Afterwards, they dined at Blue Bali and sampled local and Southeast Asian flavours for dinner.

Research Scholarship

The CFPR research scholarship is awarded to PhD candidates who are interested in completing a program on family and population issues. For this year, three CFPR scholarships were awarded to:

Bei Jianfeng
Program: PhD in Sociology

Chen Siyu
Program: PhD in Economics

Ong Xiang Ling
Program: PhD in Psychology
Consistent with the Centre's role of promoting research and informing public discussion, the Centre has been invited to comment on family and population issues in Singapore and elsewhere. For local media, CFPR has started its regular monthly column on family and population issues in Lianhe Zaobao. The first issue was on August 14, entitled "Living alone: Trend of one-person households in Asia". It featured CFPR Director Prof Jean Yeung as she shared findings from a special issue in Demographic Research on one-person households (OPH) in Asia that she edited with Dr Adam Cheung (Hong Kong Institute of Education). The 11 papers in the collection examined the historical trends, policy implications, and impact on individual well-being of OPH in 15 countries in Asia, including Singapore. With population ageing, declining fertility and marriage rates, increase in divorce and migration, Prof Yeung commented that OPH in Asia will continue to increase in the future. In the subsequent issues, Lianhe Zaobao will feature research by CFPR Deputy Directors A/P Thang Leng Leng and Prof Catherine Tang.

Features in International Media

27 June, Alone in China, Bloomberg Businessweek
22 June, The lonely aftermath of China’s one child policy, Bloomberg News
4 June, The class ceiling, The Economist
27 January, Asia Business News, BBC

CFPR Internship Program
CFPR provides student internships for local and international students to gain practical working experience in providing research and administrative support to the Centre. For this year, we welcomed two interns who provided research assistance on the Southeast Asia Family project. They also supported the daily operations of the Centre, particularly the Training Program in Social Sciences.
