French Language

French is the main medium of instruction for the majority of courses in France. However, this is not an excluding criteria as some curricula are taught in English from the graduate level. French language courses at all levels are available in France. It is possible to master the language by taking an intensive one-year course.

For French language courses in Singapore, contact Alliance Française.

Provisional admission to a French University

This is only applicable to candidates with 'A' levels or equivalent or Polytechnic diploma holders who wish to apply for admission in the first year of a French university.

December : obtain an application form at the French Embassy
 End January : form to be handed in to French Embassy
 February : French Language Test*
 May : Replies from Universities
 September / October : Academic year begins

* DALF diploma holder is exempted from this test.
