

Seminars in 2003

19 November 2003

“The ‘World Food Crisis’, 1972-1975”

Dr Christian Gerlach, Department of History, National University of Singapore

12 November 2003

Holocaust and Genocide: Entanglement of Master Concepts

Dr A. Dirk Moses, Department of History, University of Sydney, Australia

3 September 2003

Late Imperial China’s Re-Engagement with the Maritime World: The First Step: 1825-1845

Prof Jane Kate Leonard, University of Akron

27 August 2003

“Rethinking Sir Thomas Stamford Raffles: The Man and His Ideas on Christianity and Its Propagation amongst the Malays”

Mr Khairudin Aljunied, M.A. Candidate, Department of History, National University of Singapore

22 August 2003

Thai Manual Knowledge: Theory And Practice

Dr Craig Reynolds, Faculty of Asian Studies, Australian National University

15 April 2003

Stages of Development: Lyndon Johnson, Indira Gandhi and the Political Dramatics of Famine

Assoc Prof Nicholas Cullather, Fulbright Visiting Scholar, Department of History, National University of Singapore

Department of History and South Asian Studies Programme Joint Seminar

2 April 2003

Popular History in Thailand: Dreaming of Warrior Queens

Dr Hong Lysa, Honorary Research Associate, School of Historical Studies, Monash University

5 March 2003

Chinese Cartoonists in Singapore: Chauvinism, Confrontation and Compromise (1950-1980)

Mr Lim Cheng Tju, M.A. Candidate, Department of History, National University of Singapore

5 March 2003

The Collections and Reprographic Services of the National Archives of India: historical sources for South and Southeast Asian History

Mr P S M Moideen, Assistant Director (Reprographics), National Archives of India, New Delhi
South Asian Studies Programme & the Department of History Joint Seminar-Discussion